Faster

Author's Notes:
I obviously spent way too much time checking out YouTube videos of Mr. Big and Racer X these days...

Paul doesn't look at what he's doing. That's the beauty of his gift. Making the impossibly difficult look ridiculously easy.

It has become second nature, or maybe it has always been so. The notes stream out of his hands like a never ending flow of liquid music pouring in cascades over his guitar.

Slender fingers dancing up and down the fretboard, pressing the strings just long enough for the notes to be hit through swift movements of his right hand. Each time faster, as if the strings were burning hot and his fingertips wouldn't tolerate it longer than a nanosecond.
